

Sketch a design

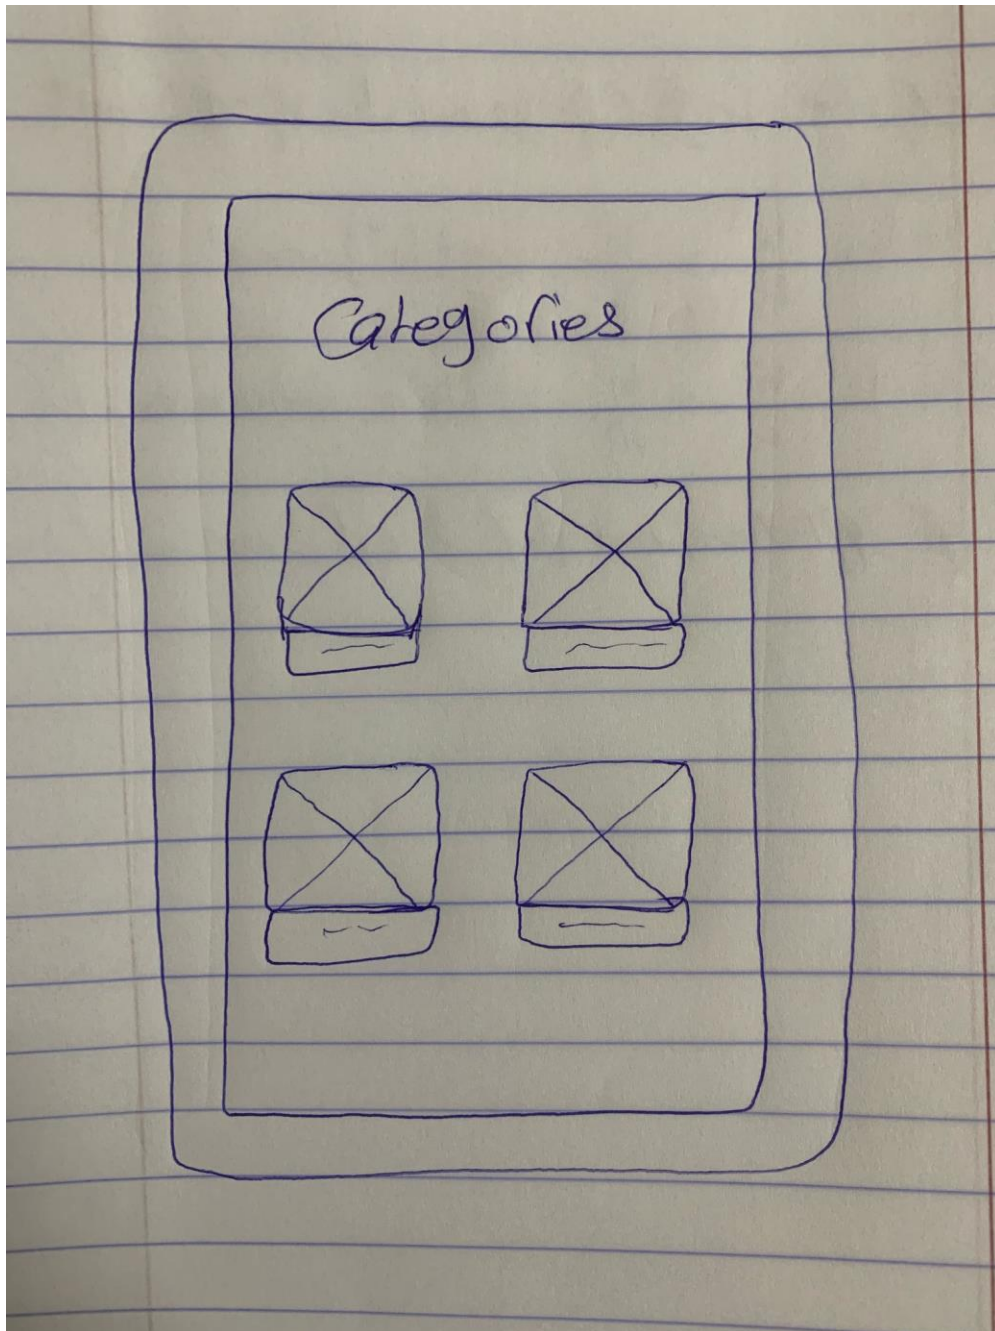

This screen allows users to create a new account in the app.

When the users open the app in the first time, they need to create accounts to see the app content

This screen allows users to log into their accounts

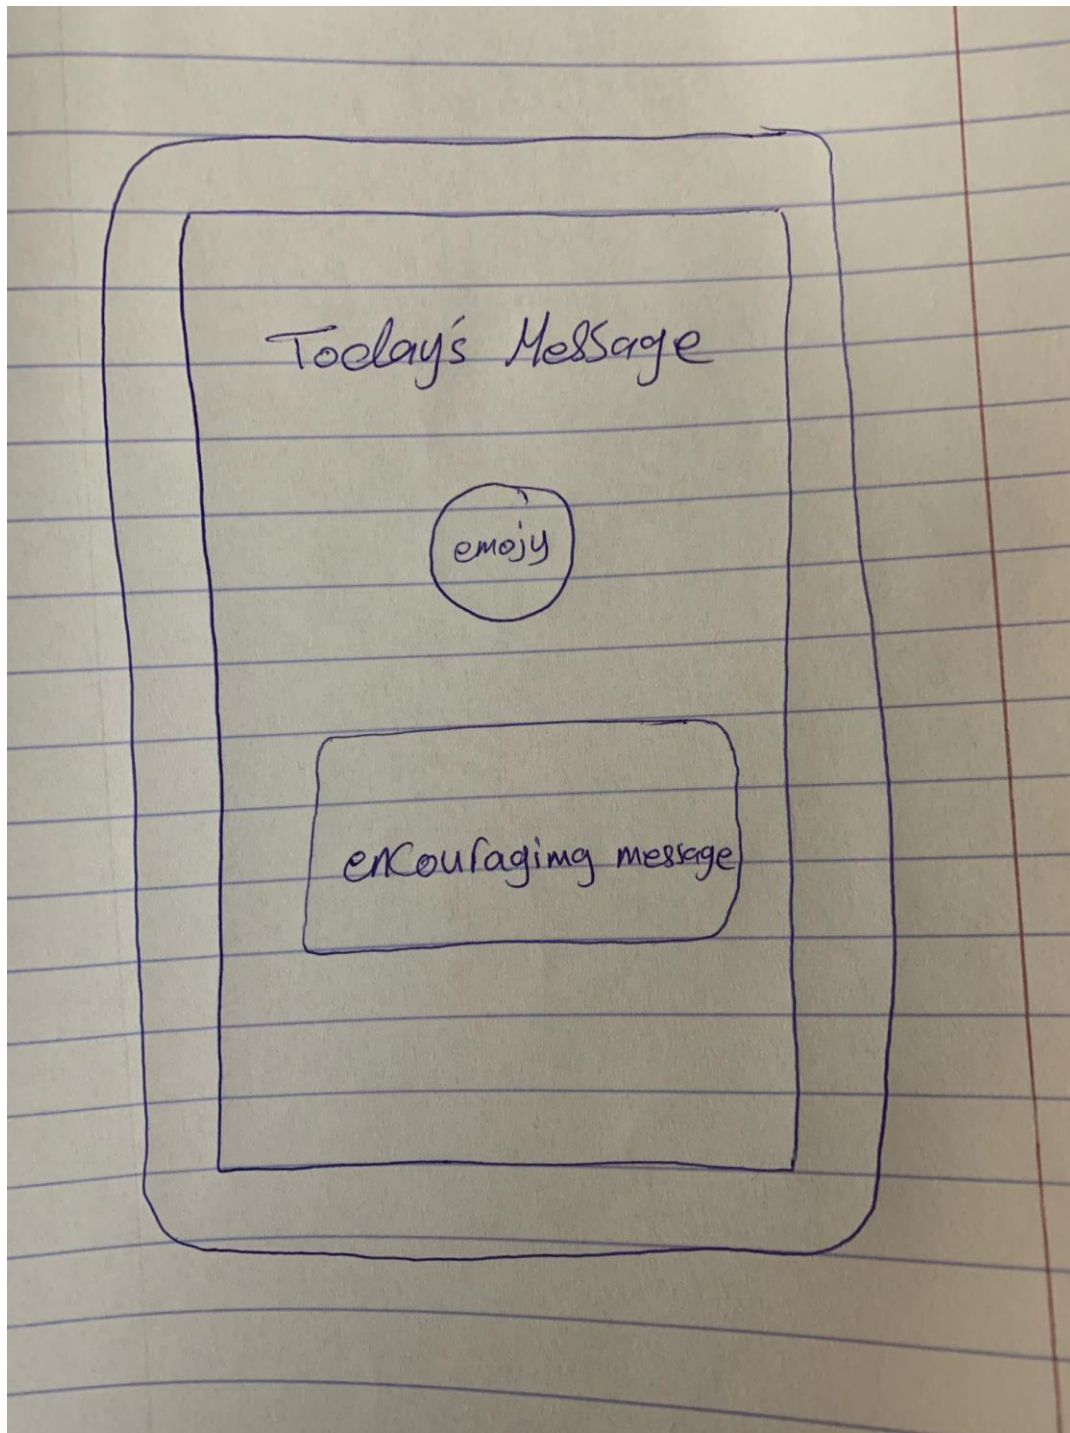

After users create accounts they must log into their accounts to show the recipes and app contents

This screen allows users to choose the recipes they want according to their classification

Research finding: simple and easy to use design

When the users open the app and they need to show a recipe they have a different category, in these categories they can find many recipes, example if we have a dessert category inside it there are many desserts recipes

This screen appears to users daily when they open the app to encourage them to continue maintaining their health through healthy eating

Research finding: Seeing encouraging phrases motivates users to continue maintaining their health